

Hiring the right candidate?
Let us check first...

A background check allows you to check if something is correct or not. Anything is possible: You can check job applicants, tenants, suppliers or partners.

The benefits for a company are many and obvious. Background check provides security, safeguards the reputation and meet customer and regulatory requirements. In addition, it saves time and money, and makes it possible to make timely decisions.

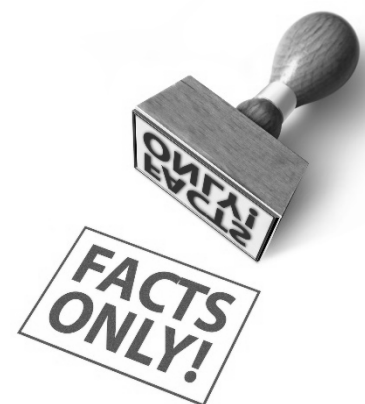

For the candidate, it is even better: A background check ensures the candidate's opportunity for a 100% fair evaluation, and is the only way to document their CV.

Screening is like a good insurance. Just better.

While insurance is something that helps if something unplanned or bad occurs, a background check ensures that it does not happen at all. A significant difference. And much cheaper.
